Silk-screen printing lacquers
for candles

Silk-screen printing

Silk-screen printing lacquers from Kaiser have proven themselves over many years but they are also characterized by innovation. Our proven solvent-based version sets accents on every candle.

Due to their high product and processing quality, our screen printing lacquers are ideal for decorative finishing of candles. Due to their high covering power and good resistance, they are the optimal prerequisite for a strong appearance.

Anyone who knows us, knows that proven products have never been good enough for us. Since environmental protection is a top priority for us, we are constantly working on new developments that will make the world a little better.

That is why we have developed our new silk-screen printing lacquers on a hydro, odorless basis.

Needless to say that the KAISER quality promise also applies to new products.

KAISER Dosing System

No matter which variant you choose, you are always on the safe side with our KAISER Dosing System. The advantages are obvious:

- You can easily adjust another 20 colors from our nine basic colors, quite simply with the recipes supplied, always in consistent color quality.
- There are no minimum order quantities, you simply produce exactly the quantity you need.
- Increase your productivity by responding immediately to inquiries and thus reduce your storage costs dramatically.
